Institutions of learning are, in a technical sense, construction companies. The idea of a college and its program are as blueprints made by an architects' expressing thought, patterns, and designs as the contractors, builder, and other concerned craftsmen carrying out the program of the college and developing the thinking of its students who represent the basic foundation and other raw material necessary to be molded and constructed into finished product.

The building of the mind is very much like the construction of a building necessitating the use of many small detailed functions. These can be exemplified by the association, affiliation and participation with organizational and social activities needed to give students a better understanding of human welfare. These functions aid students in their attempts to adjust to the diversified situations of life.

The growth of the students from the freshman to the sophomore period is like a building setting up the framework with which to complete the structure. As they advance from the junior to the senior year, they develop into a complete structure.

The graduate is expected to be a finished product who can exist alone. This is not the epitome because additional growth is usually necessary. The graduate therefore, as a building can add to his fund of knowledge as a building gets annexes in order to meet the demand for continuous progress.

PROFESSOR EMERITUS THEODORE R. DAILEY

DEDICATION

The 1957 THOROBRED is dedicated to Associate Professor Emeritus Theodore R. Dailey for his many years of service at Kentucky State College and to education in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

The following words of Tennyson can best express our feelings:

Oh God, for a man with heart, head, hand
Like some of the simple great gone
Forever and ever by.
One still strong man, in a blatant land.
Whatever they call him what care I,
Aristocrat, democrat, autocrat -- One
Who can rule and dare not lie.

"One strong man" . . . are the words that shall be ever in our hearts and minds because they convey the expression of the warmth of a friend, a loyal teacher, a true servant of mankind, a lovable character and a father of all his "children".

OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

It is highly gratifying to me to note from year to year the growth and development here at Kentucky State College. The basic purpose of a college is to prepare its students to make constructive and lasting adjustments to the many changes of everyday living.

We feel our program here is meeting the needs of our students and that it is fulfilling both the immediate and remote objectives of the college.

A black and white close-up portrait of Robert Rudie, a conductor. He is shown from the chest up, looking slightly to his right. He has dark, wavy hair and is wearing a dark suit jacket over a white dress shirt with a visible cufflink. He is holding a dark violin and bow against his chest. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting his face and the violin.

CONVOCATION SPEAKER

Reverend Martin L. King
Montgomery, Alabama

"The strong man is the man who can stand up for his rights and not hit back." With such an approach, the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., has outflanked legislators who planted statutory hedgerows against integration for as far as the eye could see.

A scholarly 28 year old Negro Baptist minister from Alabama, he has become one of the nation's outstanding leaders of men.

HISTORY OF ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY

On January 16, 1908, a group at Howard University caught the inspiration of a fellow student, Ethel Hedgeman Lyle, and initiated the movement of Greek letter sororities among Negro women in America. Now interracial, Alpha Kappa Alpha has initiated more than 25,000 women and has 104 graduate chapters and 161 undergraduate chapters. The Sorority's projects include the American Council on Human Rights, Foreign Fellowships and Undergraduate Scholarships, National Building and Chapter Houses and Research and Local Community Programs.

The purpose of the Sorority is to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards, improve the social stature of the race, promote unity and friendship among college women, and keep alive within the alumnae an interest in college life.

Delta founders envisioned an organization which would lift the race through combating ignorance, prejudice, discrimination, and injustice, and bring together college women of like ideals, scholarship, and potentialities. On such principles was Delta Sigma Theta founded. Delta Sigma Theta Sorority is recorded in Washington, D. C., as the first incorporated Sorority.

Grand Chapter Scholarship awards amount to $5,000 annually and are not limited to Delta women. The major activities are founders Day, The Jabberwock, National May Week, and Job Opportunities.

HISTORY OF OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded on November 17, 1911, by Brothers Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, Frank Coleman, and Ernest E. Just, now deceased. These four men, in the early part of the twentieth century, seized upon the cultural heritage of the human race and especially upon the heritage of their forefathers, and at their Alma Mater, Howard University, Washington, D. C., established the national Greek-letter fraternity, the Omega Psi Phi. In their founding the first national Greek-letter fraternity to be organized at a Negro institution of higher learning, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity pioneered and blazed the way for other fraternities that have followed.

The four cardinal principles upon which Omega Psi Phi is founded are Manhood, Scholarship, Perserverance, and Uplift. The purpose is Racial Uplift Through Cultural Achievement and Inspiration.
